DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Rothschild et al US Patent 6,152,824. The previous rejection is maintained and incorporated herein. A reading of Rothschild by an artisan of ordinary skill teaches and discloses each and every claim element of the instant application.

With respect to one or more users in communication with one or more servers see figure 3 element numbers 13-15 and column 3 lines 3:50-67. With respect to one or more consol systems see columns 4-8 and any reference to game instance class server and game upper level protocol server program. With respect to the claim limitation relative to providing interactive game content to the remote system user see column 1 lines 50-55. With respect to the amended subject matter please see columns 4-8 which disclose that the Gizmo ("client computer upon which the gizmo is running" !!:06-65.) links to one or more servers and programs to log on and authenticate or to connect to another Master Control Program (MCP) which may represent the type or class of game that is desired. See also private key authentication (column 4) that is a parameter passed by the one or more game modules to the one or more game servers.

Art Unit: 3713

With respect to the transfer of information and parameters please see above and the entire disclosure of Rothschild.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 6/14/04 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

With respect to the applicants remark that the examiner considers claims 1 and 11 limited to a logon application and a ping protocol the examiner notes that the rejection was made based on the entire disclosure of Rothschild. Rothschild discloses many different communications means and reasons for communication between the user and the server (game). With respect to the amended subject matter please see the rejection above.

With respect to the applicants arguments relative to specific types of game programs and protocols please see the entire disclosure of Rothschild. The listing in the previous rejection is a listing of application programs and protocols that can be handled by the communication protocols well known within the art and disclosed by Rothschild. See column 3 where the interconnect ability between clients and servers is disclosed. With respect to the passing of a parameter please see the rejection above. With respect to the request for the examiner to identify specific limitations disclosed in claims 1 and 11 the examiner disclosed those limitations in the non final rejection in order for the applicant's representative to easily find some of the dependent claim limitations and not to infer that the limitations were in the independent claims.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
